

CORNELL CLUB OF THE BERKSHIRES

2006 Annual Meeting

Featuring Myra Maloney Hart

MBA Class of 1961 Professor of Management Practice, Harvard Business School

10:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. Sunday, August 27
Egremont Country Club, Route 23, Egremont, Mass.

We invite you to join us for our Annual Meeting, when Cornell Club members from Berkshire and Columbia Counties elect our new Board and learn of our program for 2006 to 2007. Following our brunch buffet, our featured speaker will be Myra Maloney Hart. A professor at the Harvard Business School and a founder of Staples, she will speak on "Building Business in the Context of a Life."

Plan to join us for a day of food, fun and getting to know each other better.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

At Harvard, Myra Hart (AB '62 Cornell; MBA '81, DBA '95 Harvard) focuses her research and teaching on entrepreneurship. She is a member of the Diana Group, a team of professors who collaborate in the investigation of the unique challenges and opportunities of female entrepreneurs. Prior to joining Harvard, she worked in the retail industry and was Director of Marketing for Star Market. In 1985, she joined Tom Stemberg as one of the four founding officers of Staples. Myra Hart is director of the Center for Women's Business Research, a trustee of Cornell University, and a member of the President's Council of Cornell Women. She is a director of several public and private companies including Royal Ahold, Office Depot, and Nina McLemore, Inc.
